Increased tuition fee for students with insufficient credits left in their learning account(*)

(*) Learning Account: each student in the Flemish higher education receives 140 credits which he or she can stake in an initial bachelor's or master's programme with the aim of earning them back. The Flemish government funds initial bachelor's and master's programme students only with sufficient learning accounts.

Students with insufficient credits in their learning account will be charged an extra: € 13,50 for the part of their registration for which they have insufficient learning account.

Remarks:

- No increased tuition fee is charged for scholarship students of the Flemish community.
- Students transferring from an academic study programme to a professional programme within the KU Leuven Association won't be charged an increased tuition fee (only once).
- The Executive Committee of the KU Leuven Association (meeting of June 11, 2021) approved a regulation for the elimination of financial thresholds in case of reorientation, whereby in case of a reorientation within the KU Leuven Association, the fixed part of the tuition fee is waived by the institution to which the student reorients. For scholarship students, this involves the full (fixed) amount of the tuition fees, for which the student receives a reorientation certificate upon de-registration from the first institution, which he can present upon re-enrolment at the second institution.

Reimbursement of enrolment fees at the moment of premature deregistration

What happens if you decide to definitively withdraw from your studies:

- If you deregister before 1 November: the fixed amount is withheld as administrative costs
- If you deregister between 1 November and 1 March: the fixed amount is withheld as administrative costs + half of the fee per registered credit is withheld
- As of March 1: the complete registration fee is owed and there is no longer any refund.
